

IHS Markit®

Maritime & Trade Genève Briefing

Short-term ripple or long-term wave? Monetizing the ever changing 2019 crude oil market

Thursday 16 May 2019 | 6.00pm - 8.30pm CEST

Mandarin Oriental, Quai Turrettini 1,
1202 Genève, Switzerland

Join IHS Markit, for our complimentary Maritime & Trade Genève Briefing 2019 followed by drinks reception at the Mandarin Oriental Hotel on Thursday 16 May from 6pm.

During the briefing our team will provide a summary of current crude oil trade flows and take a closer look at Africa as a use case with details on their oil infrastructure and production growth. This will be followed by a review of current trade flows of crude from Africa, before we provide the latest on how IMO 2020 is impacting demand for crude. A networking and drinks reception will conclude the event after the final session.

Register: www.ihsmarkit.com/genevabriefing2019

Register at:

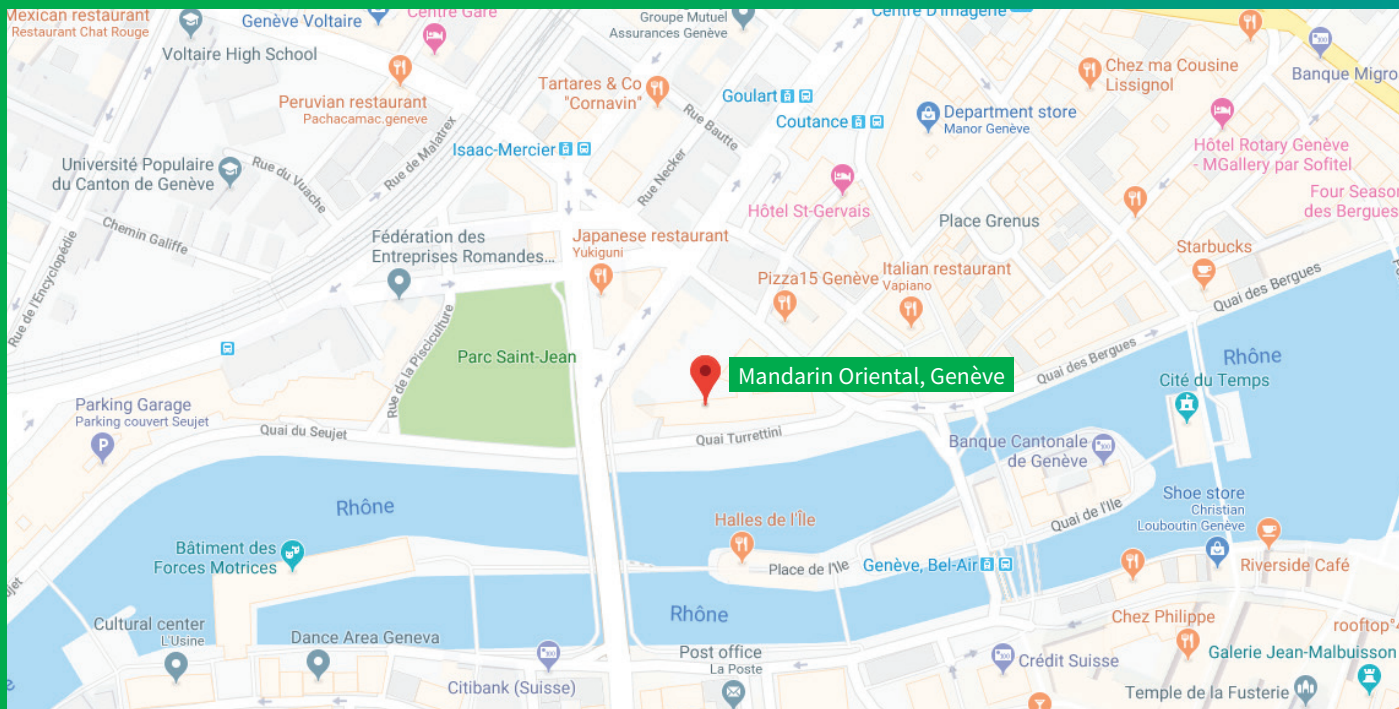

ihsmarkit.com/genevabriefing2019

6.00PM - 8.30PM

Mandarin Oriental, Quai Turrettini 1,
1202 Genève, Switzerland

RSVP

For further information on the event,
please contact Sam Chamberlain
(sam.chamberlain@ihsmarkit.com)

© Google Map

Agenda - Thursday 16 May 2019

- | | |
|---------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 6:00 pm | Registration and refreshments |
| 6:30 pm | Welcome and introduction
Stuart Strachan, SVP, Maritime and Trade, IHS Markit |
| 6:35 pm | Crude oil trade flows and global demands
Fotios Katsoulas, Principal Research Analyst, Maritime & Trade, IHS Markit |
| 6:50 pm | How has the African oil market developed
Justin Cochrane, Technical Research Associate Director, IHS Markit |
| 7:05 pm | Present picture on current crude oil flows from Africa
Fotios Katsoulas, Principal Research Analyst, Maritime & Trade, IHS Markit |
| 7:20 pm | IMO 2020 and the battle for heavy sweet crude
Hedi Grati, Associate Director, Downstream, IHS Markit |
| 7:35 pm | Q&A and summary
Stuart Strachan, SVP, Maritime and Trade, IHS Markit |
| 7:45 pm | Networking and drinks reception |
| 8:30 pm | Finish |

6.00PM - 8.30PM

Mandarin Oriental, Genève,
Quai Turretini 1, 1202 Genève,
Switzerland

Register

www.ihsmarkit.com/genevabriefing2019

