

Basin Insights

IHS Markit's Basin Insights is the leading source for commercial and strategic advisory into changes in the E&P industry's perception of a play's or basin's commercial value. Basin Insights integrates competitive landscape analysis, resource potential and-above ground risks.

In a dynamic industry like the Oil and Gas market, basin and regional play level commercial and strategic advisory has never been more important. Basin Insights service provides critical judgment of potential outcomes and opinionated perspectives on a range of issues that shape the E&P competitive landscape. The primary emphasis is to identify changes in the industry's perception of the commercial value of plays and basins.

Basin Insights allows companies to:

- Effectively benchmark and monitor the significance of events (current and future) that may impact the perception of a basin/play's hydrocarbon and commercial potential impacting investment decisions
- Gain independent actionable insights that are timely and event driven that reveal industry's early signals on changes that highlight the importance of select basins and regional plays; changes that have the potential to impact a company's portfolio and value as well as the host country
- Access critical in-depth analysis of basin and regional play competitive landscapes that integrates below and above ground perspectives. Guidance and strategic advisory that can be traced to the technical fundamentals

Sample key questions answered by Basin Insights:

- To whom is the basin or regional play most important and why?
- How is value being created in the basin/regional play? By whom and what is the impact on value?
- What basins/regional plays could alter the competitive landscape in the E&P industry? When might this happen?
