Chemical Market Daily Service

Base your daily business decisions on accurate, up-to-date pricing, metrics and analysis

Rely on fast-paced, accurate intelligence to enhance your critical day-to-day decisions

Global chemical markets can change every day. Supply and demand dislocations, outages, emerging feedstock opportunities, new supply sources, new entrants—all of these factors impact daily prices, plant operations, capacity planning, and more. This constant volatility creates a dynamic trading environment. Traders need accurate intelligence on which to base split-second decisions.

What is Market Daily Service?

Chemical Market Daily Service offers accurate, up-to-date insight on daily changes in global chemical markets. We deliver spot prices, market news, critical regional and global price metrics, and analysis. We offer four Market Daily Services covering a wide range of aromatics, olefins and polyolefins.

Unique Methodology and Benchmarks

Daily pricing information: Accurate and comprehensive global pricing for aromatics, olefins and polymers based on unique Chemical methodology. Our service reports every deal that occurs in regional chemical markets.

Real-time news and analysis: Our market experts deliver analysis of news as it evolves during the day—not only from the chemical industry, but also from interconnected upstream and downstream markets.

Easy access to critical data: IHS Connect® offers one-click access to highly relevant industry intelligence through a dashboard to your work environment or mobile smart device.
